Natural Concrete

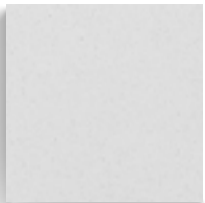

Natural concrete

The natural concrete is dedicated to the natural expression of cement materials. The product surface retains the original finish ,and part of the sand and gravel are naturally exposed through the grinding process, expressing the unique industrial design of natural concrete with a direct and simple surface appearance. The main material is made of cement and fine sand, without adding chemical coagulants such as resin. By adding color paste to the cement raw material, a variety of different colors can be achieved, and inside and outside the same.

Sandstone

Sandstone is different from terrazzo. It is made of various fine sands or granite powder of 30 mesh to 80 mesh with cement, and there are obvious small particles on the surface. The decorative effect is more simple and elegant than terrazzo, and it is suitable for spaces that require a consistent overall style. By adding color paste to the cement raw material and using different color of sand, a variety of different colors can be achieved, and inside and outside the same.

Art paint

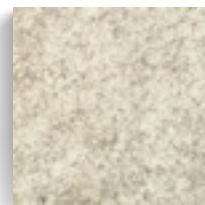

The art paint is that skilled workers use natural seaweed sponge to manually create a simulated natural pattern on the surface of the product, which is clear and threedimensional, and has an excellent sense of relief art. Some like aging effect, some look luxury, some like natrue stone. The pattern is well protected by clear coating for long lasting.

Solid color

Solid color refers to the paint sprayed on the outside of the product to cover up the defects of uneven color and rough texture of the cement itself. This is a good choice for perfectionists. This is a water based paint, available in a variety of colors, can achieve a perfect match with the color of furniture or other accessories. We will modulate the color of the cement raw material to be very close to the surface paint, so in case there is a bump, there will be no obvious in consistency.

Door handle

Crafted from natural sand/gravel and high-grade cement, this handle redefines elegance through eco-friendly casting. Multi-step water-polishing creates a stone-like finish, eliminating color variation and brittleness of natural stone. Each piece showcases unique mineral veining. Perfect for luxury residences, boutique hotels, and commercial spaces.
